FROM THE BIG ISLAND

Business in Hilo Is on the Mend.

HAWAIIAN IS CRUSHED TO DEATH

Daughter of Judge Little Married

—An Excursion on the Hilo Railroad Line.

HILO, June 8.—Business in Hilo is reported in all quarters as improving. May was one of the dulllest in the past twelve months, but as trade is gradually improving the outlook is encouraging. It is cheerful to note, also, that there has been but one failure, and that a small one, during the year. The discontinuance of the Hilo branch of the First American Savings & Trust Co., should not be taken as an indication that Hilo is going to the demitition bow-wows; the First Bank of Hilo has been increasing its business from day to day, and its stockholders have received splendid returns on their investment. The reason for the difference in the two rival concerns is that the one about to retire from the field is backed almost entirely by Honolulu capital; it is without a local board of directors and all applications for loans must be submitted to Honolulu before action can be taken. Frequently this means one or two and sometimes three weeks' delay. With the First Bank of Hilo applications are passed upon almost immediately and the business man in need of funds knows at once whether or not he will be accommodated. Business flows in the direction where it meets the least resistance and delay in the matter of getting accommodation of a financial character may be considered, to a certain extent, as a resistance. It is possible, of course, that Hilo is not far enough advanced to support two banks; it certainly will not support two where the sale of exchange at the present low rate is depended upon as the chief source of profit.—Hilo Herald.

KILLED AT KUKAIAU.

While the steamer Kalulani was taking on sugar at Kukaiau on Tuesday a native boat steerer was killed by being crushed on the rocks. It seems that the boat that he was steering had four other sailors and, though the sea was not rough, the boat was allowed to get close inshore. The boat steerer and two of the sailors became alarmed and jumped overboard. The sailors swam out toward the steamer, but the boat steerer was thrown against the rocks and killed. The boat containing the two who remained in it drifted to sea, as the men had no oars, and the steamer put after them and brought them safely on board. The captain afterwards brought his vessel to Hilo and reported the accident to Superintendent Poor. Another accident to a Wilder's sailor happened last week at Honohina. A Japanese sailor, who was going ashore for his own pleasure, fell from the sling and broke his neck.—Herald.

A PLEASANT EXCURSION.

Supt. Lambert, of the Hilo Railroad Co., tendered all of his employees an excursion to Puna last Thursday and provided a special car and train for their comfort. Arrangements had been made with R. A. Lyman for the use of his grounds and residence, and a bountiful repast was set. After luncheon Mr. McTaggart, foreman of the car shops, proposed the health of Supt. Lambert in an impromptu speech in which he drew comparisons between capital and labor of today and twenty-five years ago. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Lambert and the managers of the Hilo railway. Mr. Lambert responded in a manner that pleased the excursionists very much. After the speech-making a visit was made to Green Lake and Warm Springs, where a pleasant time was had. The train arrived back in Hilo about 5:30 in the afternoon. There were present Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lambert, J. McTaggart and family, P. Ziegler and family, Mr. Giddings and family, Frank Berggren and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer and granddaughter, Mrs. A. J. Naphtaley, G. H. Brown and wife, the Misses Howard, D. E. Wilson, wife and son, George Williams, C. Alden, C. Kopf, O. Jeppson, W. Penn, Sam Kalua, D. Jardine, P. Elemakule, A. P. Cheetham, M. Souser, M. Rice, J. Olsen, D. Hemrof, J. J. Combs, A. Pacheco and family. The Hawaiian Quintet Club accompanied the party and furnished music throughout the day.—Herald.

HOLLAND-LITTLE.

Miss Oma, daughter of Judge Little, and Dr. John Holland were married at the residence of C. H. W. Hitchcock, Waihanu street, by the Rev. C. W. Hill on Tuesday evening. The wedding was a private one, only those residing at the house and one or two friends of the groom being present. After the ceremony congratulations were in order and then followed a luncheon. The bridal couple, accompanied by a host of friends, left by special train at 8:15 for Kapoho, their future residence, where Dr. Holland is the plantation and Government physician.—Herald.

Morning Star's Successor.

Owing largely to the high prices prevailing at present for ship-building, it has been deemed best to hold in abeyance for a while the plans for a new vessel to take the place of the Morning Star, and instead of chartering a vessel to do the work of the present year, a small schooner, the Carrie and Annie, has been bought at a moderate price, and she will sail as near the first of June as possible for Kusale and Ponape. It is hoped that Captain Garland will go in command. Dr. Rife and family will go down in the vessel, and supplies and a mail will be sent by her to all the islands except Guam. Letters should be written at once, and sent in care of Rev. Walter Frear, Y. M. C.

A. Building, San Francisco, Cal.—Missionary Herald.

PRECEPT AND PRACTICE.

"We are slaves to custom," answered Mr. Bilgins. "We tie ourselves down to the tyranny of tradition and mock the very men who seek to free us from our shackles. We are too ready to fear what people think; too ready to speed a thoughtless gibe."

Mr. Bilgins suddenly stopped and began laughing.

"What's the matter?" asked his wife.

"Give me my hat, quick. There goes Timmins with a straw hat on. First straw hat of the season! If I don't make life a burden to him I'll know the reason why."

LIHUE'S MASQUERADE.

Kauai Society Turns Out and Has a Good Time.

LIHUE, June 8.—One of the most successful social events ever seen on Kauai was a masquerade ball held at the Lihue court house last Saturday evening. The costumes were both picturesque and comical, and were such perfect disguises that a man recognized not his own brother. The object of the ball was to raise funds for the building of a social hall in Lihue, and the sum of $85 was cleared after expenses were paid. Mr. J. H. Coney, the master of ceremonies, conducted the whole affair so admirably that Lihue's first masquerade ball was a grand success.

SPRECKELSVILLE JAPS RETURN

Danger of General Strike Because of Negro's Act Averted.

MAUI, June 8.—The Japanese of Spreckelsville, who were on the verge of leaving the plantation because of the alleged assault upon one of their number by a negro, William Stally, have accepted the advice of their Consul in Honolulu and decided to remain. It seems that Manager W. J. Lowrie diplomatically advised the Japanese to consult with their Consul before taking the decisive action of leaving Spreckelsville in a body. This they did by sending a committee to Honolulu, who soon returned with advice favorable to plantation interests. The story of the assaulted Jap, who was most severely injured, is that Stally approached him demanding money. Upon his refusal the negro began to stab him with a knife. The Jap was cut in eleven places, all for $2 or $3. He was barely able to crawl to the quarters of his friends. He is in the plantation hospital. Manager Lowrie has recently discharged the darkeys belonging to the Stally gang and they, with some others, have gone to Honolulu. The general opinion of Maui people seems decidedly against the further importation of negroes for plantation laborers.

THE AWFUL SLOT MACHINE.

Now listen to the song which I will sing:

I'm a jolly, double-action slot machine,

In politics I'm strictly the "whole thing";

I'm king of all the evils you have seen.

You may talk about your gambling device—

Your little games of poker and roulette;

For little boys those things are very nice,

But for toughness I'm the proposition yet.

Drop a penny in my slot and get your gum—

Six axes—ten cigars and half the pot—

Now listen to the music of my hum—

Oh, is that the only nickel you have got?

Go gamble on your copper stocks and wheat;

Go bet and lose your money on the green;

Go pour it in a hole, but if you would save your soul,

Don't monkey with this awful slot machine.

Go steal and rob and slander, if you will;

Don't worry in the least if you are seen;

You can always get the votes of the sheep, as well as goats,

If you've never seen this awful slot machine.

—St. Paul Globe.

AN ACHIEVEMENT.

"Did you succeed in arousing any interest in your recent political campaign?"

"I did better than to arouse interest," answered Senator Sorghum. "I managed to stir up a few dividends."
